NEW THRILLER

Black Doves From Thursday 5 December, Netflix

Keira Knightley and Ben Whishaw are old friends reunited by their dangerous double lives in a new Christmas-set thriller, which finds Happy Valley's Sarah Lancashire lurking in the shadows as a steely spymaster.

Created by Giri/Haji and The Lazarus Project writer Joe Barton, six-part Netflix drama Black Doves is brimming with action and dry humour. Set in London at Christmas, it follows Helen Webb (Knightley), who is married to a politician husband, Tory Minister of State for Defence Wallace Webb (Andrew Buchan), and is a devoted mother to their young twins, Oliver and Jacqueline.

However, Helen is harbouring dark secrets: not only is she a professional spy, but for 10 years, she's been stealing Government information from her husband for a private espionage organisation called Black Doves. What's more, she's been having an affair, and when her lover is murdered, Helen's handler, Reed (Lancashire), sends an assassin, Sam Young (Whishaw), to protect her.

ITV. NETFLIX

BBC.

DHOTO

REBECC

Sam's been out of the game for years but promises to help his old friend Helen uncover the truth about the killing, even when it means confronting London's nefarious criminal underworld and a brewing geopolitical catastrophe. 'Helen appears to be the wife, who publicly has to be so proper, but she is actually an undercover agent who goes on a deranged killing spree with her assassin best friend! The juxtaposition of those things is excellent, says Knightley, 39, who's known for her roles in movies Atonement, Anna Karenina and the Pirates of the Caribbean franchise.

'Helen needs to play with fire and wants that violent part of herself to come out again so she can feel alive. But in the centre of the madness is this beautiful, very strange friendship with Sam, while her relationship with Reed is weirdly maternal and deeply dysfunctional.'

> The cast also includes Andrew Koji as Helen's lover, Jason, Omari Douglas as Sam's ex-boyfriend, Michael, and Adeel Akhtar as British Prime Minister Richard Eaves. Plus, Luther Ford plays crime-family member Hector Newman and Paapa Essiedu is hitman Elmore Fitch.

'One of the things I love about the show is that characters who would traditionally be played by men are played by women – or, in the case of Sam and some other assassins, gay people,' says Whishaw, 44, who's starred in This Is Going to Hurt, A Very English Scandal and three James Bond films.

'There's something playful about that, subverting traditional attitudes of the genre, and it refreshes it. I love the character of Sam, too, and it felt like something I hadn't done before.

'Sam's dad was a gunman who killed people for money, so it's a job that comes strangely naturally to him, but he's also disturbed by it. He has a conscience, which is his Achilles heel.'

PUPPET MASTER

Last Tango in Halifax star Lancashire agrees that the show – which has already been renewed for a second season – brought an opportunity for its cast to get stuck into new types of roles.

'Black Doves is taut, witty, clever, audacious and thrilling,' says Lancashire, 60. 'Reed is a puppet master of the highest order, pulling strings in the corridors of power. She's sacrificed the best years of her life for this organisation, and she recognises herself in Helen.

'I adored working with Keira and Ben, too. They're both at the top of their game, brilliant actors and lovely people. It would be a shame if I had to have either of them killed!'

Will the widowed detective find romance as crime drama Dalgliesh returns?

NEW CRIME DRAMA Dalgliesh Thursday & Friday, 9pm, Channel 5

V WEEK

P.D. James' brooding detective Adam Dalgliesh is back on our screens to offer his shrewd take on three complex new cases.

The third six-part run of Channel 5's crime drama Dalgliesh is set in 1979. The cerebral cop (Bertie Carvel) has been promoted to Commander and is heading up a specialist unit dealing with high-profile cases.

In the two-part opener, he teams up with DS Daniel Tarrant (Alistair Brammer) to look into the murder of an archdeacon. But could romance blossom for widowed Commander Dalgliesh when, during the investigation, he meets art historian Emma Lavenham (Claire Goose)?

Here, Carvel, 47, reveals what's in store in the new series...

What happens in the first case?

It's set in a seminary and is about what people have brought into that cloistered world from outside, the secrets they have and what they're escaping from. It's very gothic.

Will Commander Dalgliesh find romance with Emma? Will he take a risk and begin a new relationship? The sliver of ice in his heart is maybe thawing. In the first season, Dalgliesh was a man destroyed by grief [after losing his wife and baby] but now there's spring in the air...

What's coming up in the later investigations? The second story is set around a country house where there's a summer fete, and sees this smashing of worlds. Then the third case is set in a nuclear power station with dark secrets and espionage.

You character has a different sidekick for each investigation. How do they differ? With Tarrant, Dalgliesh is challenged, while DI Clive Roscoe [Sam Swainsbury] is on the ball and requires little parenting. In the third case, he's reunited with DCI Kate Miskin [Carlyss Peer]. They haven't had a straightforward relationship, but she now helps unlock some of Dalgliesh's growth.

You direct the episodes covering the second case. How did you find that? I've directed on stage but never on screen. It was a tall order but great. Directing and acting are essentially the same – you're just using different tools in storytelling.

Why do you think viewers are drawn to Dalgliesh?

When the world's descending into chaos, there's something reassuring about a character who can solve things. The cases reward the audience's investment. But although justice is served, it's flawed. Human justice and things aren't neatly tied off.

Claire Goose plays

Emma Lavenham

American Primeval on Netflix

Set in the 1850s, this six-part drama – coming to Netflix from 9 January – follows Mormons and other settlers staking a claim to land in the American West. Taylor Kitsch is Isaac, a traumatised man struggling to overcome his demons, Betty Gilpin is settler Sara, and Kim Coates is Brigham Young, the real-life leader of the Mormon Church.

Ian McShane (right) played saloon owner Al Swearengen in this gritty western, set in the South Dakota frontier town of the title in the 1870s, with much of the story based on real historical figures. The show ran for three seasons (2004–2006) and spawned a 2019 spin-off movie.

Nutcrackers From Friday 29 November, Disney+

After taking a six-year break from lead acting roles, Ben Stiller is back on our screens this week in feel-good Disney+ movie Nutcrackers.

The Zoolander and Meet the Parents star plays Porsche-driving, workaholic real-estate developer Mike, who is shocked to hear that his estranged sister and her husband have been killed in a car accident in the run-up to Christmas, leaving their four young sons as orphans.

NEW COMEDY DRAMA

The Sticky From Friday 6 December, Prime Video

Between 2011 and 2012, nearly 3,000 tons of maple syrup – valued at over $18 million – was stolen from a storage facility in the biggest heist in Canadian history.

Now, Prime Video's comedy drama The Sticky has taken that story as the inspiration for a tongue-in-cheek crime caper starring an unlikely gang of robbers.

CANADIAN CAPER

Tough, middle-aged maple-syrup farmer Ruth Landry (The Good Fight's Margo Martindale) is struggling to make ends meet looking after her comatose husband when she learns that the Quebec Maple Association intends to shut down her farm.

Fearing the total loss of her livelihood, Ruth is on the verge of selling up when family friend and small-time mobster Mike Byrne (Chris Diamantopoulos) invites her to join him and ambitious security guard Remy Bouchard (Guillaume Cyr) in a plot to loot the province's substantial maplesyrup surplus.

'There's nothing more Canadian than maple syrup, and there's nothing more entertaining to watch than three completely unqualified crooks attempting to steal millions of dollars of the stuff, says co-creator Ed Herro. 'They're soon in over their heads, in a desperate attempt to get their sticky fingers on what they feel they deserve.

STICKY STAKES

The series – which also features a guest appearance from Jamie Lee Curtis as Bo Shea, an associate of Mike's – was filmed in and around Montreal last year, and Martindale relished working on the Fargo-style caper.

'Ruth is the smart one, the brains of the operation, and I guess Remy is the heart and Mike is the muscle. But it's sort of a Three Stooges situation,' says Martindale, 73. 'Ruth is on her final legs of trying to survive, and that makes the stakes higher.

'This show was different from any that I'd read, and I first thought this couldn't be a real thing. I liked that it was loosely inspired by a true story. I knew nothing about maple-syrup farming, of course, and it was wild to learn about it. In fact, I learnt way, way too much about maple syrup!'

Uptight Mike has no plans to take them in, but when he arrives at the family's Ohio farmhouse to figure out what to do with the unruly boys, he's forced to look after them temporarily while family-services agent Gretchen (Linda Cardellini) sorts out fostering arrangements.

Mike is less than thrilled to be stuck looking after four near-feral kids instead of being back in Chicago finalising a big-money deal. But as he starts to bond with his nephews, will he have a change of heart? 'It's a sweet and heartfelt script' says Stiller, who turns 59 on 30 November, and who has put his energies into directing projects like Apple TV+'s Severance over the past few years.

ROWDY WAYS

The boys in the film are all brothers in real life who have never acted before, and the film was shot at their family's actual farmhouse in the Midwest.

'Shooting the movie at the boys' house, we were so in their world, surrounded by all their dogs and chickens and dirt bikes', says Stiller. 'In a normal movie, they'd have auditions, but I didn't meet the boys before I got on set. It was very chaotic in the best way. They were climbing up on the roof, doing what kids do – getting into trouble. Every day was an adventure'.

Richard Curtis makes his animation debut with a festive tale about Santa, a snowstorm and a seaside community

WATCHLIST

NETFLIX That Christmas NEW Available: Wednesday 4 December Genre: Animation

With his heart-warming 2003 romcom Love Actually, Richard Curtis showed us how to serve up an instant Christmas classic. Now, two decades on, he's getting into the festive spirit once more, making his first foray into animation with That Christmas, which lands on Netflix this week.

Based on Curtis' trilogy of children's books, the magical film features entwined tales of family, friends, love and loneliness among the tight-knit community of the fictional Wellington-on-Sea in Suffolk, who pull together when it looks like Christmas will be ruined by the worst snowstorm in history.

Curtis says he loved seeing the characters of his books brought to life in animation. 'I was dazzled by how quickly animation

'Ms Trapper's presented as the teacher who kids might be frightened of but, actually, she's a very nice person,' says Shaw, 66. 'She is lonely and full of loss, and having a very dull Christmas on her own, looking back at some old memories. Christmas often fails to live up to expectations, but this film shows how, by facing challenges, good things can emerge.'

LOVE ALL AROUND

Featuring a speeding Santa, runaway turkeys and a very modern nativity, there's lots of fun to be had - and the theme of love is certainly all around.

'I'd like people to come away from this film believing that Christmas is a time to be with - and understanding of - the ones you love,' says Curtis, who hopes That Christmas will become essential family viewing in Christmases ahead.

'People watch Love Actually repeatedly because, with all the different stories, you don't always remember what's going to happen next. That Christmas, with its three stories, also has that charm, so I love the thought that people might watch it again and again.'

Naturally, making another festive film had Curtis, 68, thinking about his own childhood Christmases.

The agony of every family Christmas was always the clash between Christmas lunch served at 1.30pm - and Christmas Top of the Pops, which started at 2pm,' he recalls. 'I'd always pretend to help out, saying: "You relax, Mum, I can pop to the kitchen to get some salt," just so I could sneakily watch Elton John singing Step into Christmas on TV!

Prime Jack in Time for Christmas

Available: Tuesday 3 December Genre: Comedy

Comedian and actor Jack Whitehall must have an address book to die for because in this Christmas romp he calls on help from a host of celebrity friends, including Michael Bublé, Rebel Wilson, Jimmy Fallon, Daisy May Cooper, Tom Davis and wrestler and actor Dave Bautista.

The festive comedy caper sees Whitehall stranded in America with just four days to make it back to the UK for Christmas Day. Taking inspiration from classic 1988 movie Planes, Trains and Automobiles, he vows to get back to Blighty by any means of transport necessary - from husky rides to bobsleighing and is helped (and hindered) along the way by famous faces.

Dave Bautista

'There are lots of references to movies and Christmas shows that I used to love watching when I was growing up,' says Whitehall, who got the idea for the special from his desire to work with crooner Michael Bublé.

INSPIRATION

'Michael was interviewed on a radio show and said he wanted to do a road trip with me, so I got my thinking cap on and my head went straight to doing something Christmassy. We've ended up with this hybrid show that has a mixture of scripted and travelogue reality elements.

Whitehall, 36, says it was a 'Christmas miracle' that he managed to get so many big stars involved. However, in hindsight, the real miracle is probably that he managed to survive the show's terrifying highspeed bobsleigh ride.

'Nearly killing myself going down a mountain in a bobsleigh is probably the one thing that's going to stick in the memory for the longest,' he smiles. 'It was one of those occasions where something is considerably worse and scarier than I even thought it might be in my head. At least that's off the bucket list now - I'll never be seen in a bobsleigh again.

Jude Law is a mysterious warrior in a new Star Wars spin-off

Skeleton Crew

NEW Available: Wednesday 4 December Genre: Sci-fi Season: 1 Episodes: 8 (first two eps from Wed 4 Dec, then weekly)

Jude Law enters the Star Wars universe as a mysterious Force-wielding warrior in this eight-part series about daring kids who embark upon an exciting adventure.

Star Wars: Skeleton Crew is set at the same time as hit Disney+ show The Mandalorian, in the years following the 1983 film Return of the Jedi, and the action begins when four pals discover a starship and set off into the galactic unknown.

However, it's not long before Wim (Ravi Cabot-Conyers), Fern (Ryan Kiera Armstrong), KB (Kyriana Kratter) and their Ortolan pal Neel (Robert Timothy Smith) run into trouble. Luckily, mysterious Forceuser Jod Na Nawood (Law) is on hand to save them, even though some of the kids aren't that keen on accepting his help.

'There are thrills, jeopardy and familiar species, but it's seen through the eyes of these four lost kids', explains Law. 'They meet Jod and he tries to help them back to their home planet. But you never quite know if he's trustworthy or not, whether he's with one side or another.

As well as its Star Wars origins, the series has been billed as a tribute to classic 1980s movies such as E.T. and The Goonies. 'There are plenty of hoverbikes,' smiles Law. 'It's an homage to those films and there are beautiful moments that are very Spielbergian.'

The 51-year-old star says he was excited to join the Star Wars universe after being a huge fan of the original trilogy as a child. 'It really reminds me of the feeling I had

'It really reminds me of the feeling I had when I saw this world for the first time as a youngster, when the original films came out,' he explains. 'I remember that excitement and how it changed my life in a way. It connects to that awe, and I hope that viewers will feel that, too.'

Former Tory MP Sir Jacob Rees-Mogg opens the door to his privileged life in a new reality series

NEW REALITY

The Rees-Mogg family

Meet the Rees-Moggs From Mon 2 December, Discovery+

Move over, Kim Kardashian and Tyson Fury – there's a new reality star coming to our screens this week. Love him or loathe him, former Conservative MP Sir Jacob Rees-Mogg opens the door to his 17th-century Somerset manor house for Discovery+'s new fly-on-the-wall series Meet the Rees-Moggs.

Over five episodes, cameras follow the devout Catholic and Eton-educated politician, his heiress wife Helena and their six children - Peter, Mary, Thomas, Anselm, Alfred and Sixtus – in the run-up to the 2024 General Election and its aftermath. And there are some fascinating insights into family life along the way. Not only does it turn out

Rees-Mogg has a penchant for a daily Greggs ham-and-cheese baguette and likes his boxers ironed, but there's also a peek at his bedroom - or 'quarters' as he likes to call it.

The film crew even captures the Rees-Moggs' weekly family ritual of black-tie Saturdays, where they all dress up in their finest for dinner cooked by housekeepers Sara and Chelsea.

HOMELIFE

'I'm well aware that there are risks in reality TV, says Rees-Mogg, 55. 'I think this will be a rather different kettle of fish from The Kardashians, although I've never watched the programmes about them, so I don't really have a clue? In the opener, Rees-Mogg's son Nanny Veronica

Crook

Anselm's 12th birthday is overshadowed by Boris Johnson's 60th bash in Oxfordshire, while his daughter Mary, 15, tries to teach her father urban slang words like 'rizz' and 'wasteman'.

Meanwhile, Rees-Mogg suffers verbal abuse while out campaigning to retain his seat of North East Somerset and Hanham, and even his 80-something mother has his election campaign board outside her house defaced.

We also learn about life 'downstairs', as loyal nanny Veronica Crook, who has been working for the Rees-Moggs for almost 60 years, reveals how young Rees-Mogg was an indulged child, who for years needed her to hold his hand on the way to school.

BAD NEWS

However, life doesn't run smoothly for Rees-Mogg when he loses his seat at the General Election later in the series. Cameras capture the moment the family gathers around the TV to hear the results of the exit poll, and Rees-Mogg's campaign manager and PA Margaret phones with bad news from the count.

But after 14 years as an MP in the corridors of Westminster, will Rees-Mogg be able to adjust to life away from politics?

Thank God we knew this Labour landslide or Conservative train crash was coming, but we just have to get on with it. That's democracy for you,' says his wife, Helena. 'But what Jacob does next I'm not sure - and I don't even know whether he's sure.

Figing Cameras follow Luke Littler's epic World Darts Championship campaign

NEW FACTUAL

Game of Throws: Inside Darts

aturday, 9pm, Sky Documentaries & Sky Showcase (box set, Sky Box Sets & NOW)

Teen darts sensation Luke Littler created history in January this year when he stormed to the final of the World Darts Championship at the age of just 16.

The unseeded star became the youngest-ever finalist, thrilling spectators and TV audiences alike on his championship debut at London's Alexandra Palace.

Now, this new three-part Sky series goes behind the scenes both on and off the oche, following the fortunes of top players like Luke Humphries, Michael Smith, James Wade, Michael van Gerwen and Luke 'The Nuke' Littler himself as they compete for the title.

DREAM RUN

Cameras track Littler, from Warrington, Cheshire, during preparation stages, through to his opening win against former world champion Christian Kist and his astonishing route to the final, defeating the likes of Andrew Gilding, Raymond van Barneveld and Rob Cross. The programme also hears from his parents, Anthony and Lisa, plus there's home-video footage of Littler throwing darts as a young boy.

'Nobody saw the Luke Littler effect coming. He was a bonus that came from the gods of darts' says the sport's head honcho Barry Hearn. 'My wife isn't a big darts fan, but even she never missed a game with Luke Littler playing. We couldn't have written a better script for the World Championship?

SUCCESS

Littler eventually lost out to Luke Humphries in a thrilling final, but the teenager has continued to impress in 2024, winning the Premier League in May, and has his sights set on the world title again when the tournament starts next month.

'Last time, walking on the stage and looking at that trophy, I was thinking to myself, "Imagine," so it was agonising to lose the final, says Littler, now 17. 'Now, I just want to go on and win it!'

A wonderful Timothée Chalamet stars in this delicious, delectable family treat

FAMILY FANTASY

Friday, 7.55am & 8pm, Sky Premiere

In Paul King's Dahl-iverse confection, Willy Wonka (Timothée Chalamet) is a young man with a crazy dream (and a magic hat), hungry to share his bespoke chocolate creations with the world's candy capital. Our guileless fantasist clashes with chocolate-cartel boss Slugworth (Paterson Joseph) and winds up reduced to forced labour.

PREMIERE OF THE WEEK

> Yet as Wonka befriends fellow outcasts, including orphan Noodle (Calah Lane), he clings to his vision.

Resisting Gene Wilder/Johnny Depp mimicry, Chalamet whisks up his own gentle Wonka from a measured mix of naivete and knowing wiles. Some will complain he's too benign, too warm, but he summons a musical-ready lightness and bonds generously with the winning Lane. And after King's Paddington 2, a game Hugh Grant again steals the show (and chocs) as a grumpy Oompa Loompa.

The vibrant stylings are equally on-point, accommodating hints of playful whimsy and Wizarding World-ish world-building to maintain a sense of handmade personality. The tunes are buoyant and infectious, with composer Joby Talbot and songwriter Neil 'Divine Comedy' Hannon elevating story beats into expressive musical extravagances. ### My Old Ass

On now, on demand, Prime Video What would your 18-year-old self ask your 39-year-old self if you had the chance? That's the dilemma for teenager Maisy Stella who, after taking magic mushrooms with her friends, 'conjures' up her older self in the shape of Aubrey Plaza. Although this uses an extraordinary element as a springboard, writer-director Megan Park's film is grounded in the turmoils of youth, when everything is in front of you and you're still figuring out who you actually are. Funny, poignant and with a beautifully tender finale (get your hankie ready), this touches on the importance of family, love and exposing yourself to all that life throws at you - for good or ill. It's a quietly magical movie filled with compassion and heart. 2024, 15, 89MIN

Awkward young black man Justice Smith is brought into a secret society by David Alan Grier and given magical powers... to make white people's lives that much easier. But as he takes on client Drew Tarver, he realises his mission is to help him win the girl Smith has just fallen for himself, co-worker An-Li Bogan... This sly, elegant satire by writer-director Kobi Libii takes a fresh approach to questions of racism and flips them on their head – the American Society of Magical Negroes exists purely to ensure white folks aren't threatened by their black counterparts and so helping the black population thrive – and does a smart job of showing that humility is not all it's cracked up to be. Smith, as ever, is a fine lead, and his burgeoning relationship with Bogan is sweetly done, but wisely doesn't override the movie's key message. 2024, 12, 104 MIN

Sunday, kick-off 4pm, Sky Sports Main Event & Sky Sports Premier League The only two teams to be English champions since 2018 meet at Anfield on Sunday, as Liverpool face Manchester City in a pivotal game for the title race. After a blistering start to the season, the Reds are top of the Premier League table and will want to keep the pressure on the four-time defending champions. Liverpool fans were uncertain what to expect when new boss Arne Slot took over in the summer after Jürgen Klopp's trophy-laden spell in charge. But the Dutchman has overseen an impressive run, with Mohamed Salah and Luis Díaz among the goals. Even the loss of stalwart goalkeeper Alisson through injury hasn't dented the momentum, as Irish international Caoimhín Kelleher has provided reliable cover.

Before the international break, Liverpool had 28 points out of a possible 33 - and no club has ever failed to win the competition from such a position. 'Before the season started, I would not say we were candidates,' says Liverpool midfielder Alexis Mac Allister. 'But now it looks like we are.'

No one is writing off Manchester City yet, especially as Pep Guardiola's side are famously strong finishers. In the last three seasons combined, the club has only lost four league matches after Christmas. However, this season has seen

> Coaches Pep Guardiola and Arne Slot

the worst losing run of Guardiola's entire managerial career, including back-to-back league defeats to Bournemouth and Brighton.

Many have put the inconsistency down to a spate of injuries to big-name players - John Stones, Jack Grealish, Rúben Dias, Jérémy Doku, midfield maestro Kevin De Bruyne and Ballon d'Or winner Rodri have all had stints out of the side. Superstar striker Erling Haaland is the only City player with more than three goals this season in all competitions.

But Guardiola is sanguine, saying, 'Maybe after seven years winning six Premier Leagues, maybe one year another team deserves it?

F1: Qatar Grand Prix Sunday, race starts 4pm, Sky Sports F1

If Max Verstappen failed to clinch a fourth successive world title in Las Vegas last time out, the Red Bull driver will have a second bite at the cherry under the floodlights in Qatar in Sunday's penultimate Grand Prix of the season, preceded by a sprint race on Saturday. Last year, Verstappen clinched the world title in the sprint at the Lusail International Circuit by finishing second behind McLaren's Oscar Piastri, before taking the chequered flag in the following day's Grand Prix, ahead of Piastri and his teammate Lando Norris. Both McLaren drivers will want another podium finish on Sunday as their team battles it out with Ferrari in the constructors' championship.

See next week's issue for our guide to the tournament.

Dame Jacqueline Wilson's modern reimagining of The Railway Children transfers the adventure to Scotland, and the city of Glasgow, to be more specific, where the Robinson siblings, Perry, Becks and Phoebe, live a comfortable life with their parents.

However, after their father (Kevin McKidd) disappears, the children and their mum are uprooted to the remote Scottish Highlands, where unexpected excitement, adventure and a new sense of belonging awaits them. This promises to be a treat for all the family.

Tamara Lawrance stars in a fraught Jamaicaset crime thriller

A troubled cop carries out a disturbing investigation in the Caribbean in C4's upcoming drama Get Millie Black.

The five-part series, airing next year, sees Tamara Lawrance head the cast as Millie-Jean Black, a no-nonsense Scotland Yard detective who, as her UK life becomes difficult, leaves her job and moves back to Jamaica, where she was born.

Working with the Jamaican police force, she looks into the worrying case of a missing person, which takes her from capital city Kingston to the post-colonial plantations. As the investigation escalates across the globe and she grows unsure of where she belongs, Millie-Jean finds herself back in London, but danger surrounds her...

COLOURFUL CHARACTERS

Gershwyn Eustache Jnr co-stars as Curtis, Millie-Jean's secretly gay police partner, Joe Dempsie is Scotland Yard inspector Luke Holborn, who causes turmoil when he comes to Jamaica to make inquiries about a case, Chyna McQueen plays Millie-Jean's transgender sibling Hibiscus and Dorothy 'Patra' Smith is club owner Hit Girl.

'My mother was one of the first policewomen in Jamaica to make detective. Storytelling has always struck me as a mystery to be solved, which I'm sure I got from her,' says the show's creator, awardwinning author Marlon James. 'Millie-Jean, from the second she appeared in my imagination, was a brilliant, mercurial, hilarious, unpredictable force of nature just waiting for her story to be told.'
